Junior Leadership Council

NYSCF's Junior Leadership Council (JLC) is a group of dedicated young professionals and emerging leaders committed to NYSCF's mission of advancing cures for the major diseases of our time through stem cell research. As ambassadors for NYSCF, JLC members commit time and financial support to increase awareness of NYSCF's work through events, educational programs and outreach campaigns.

Junior Leadership Council Benefits:

- Interact directly with scientists on the front lines of stem cell research
- Be the first to learn about scientific breakthroughs and news updates from the NYSCF Research Institute and partnering institutions
- Network with like-minded young professionals from the art, entertainment, finance, fashion, media, pharma and medical industries
- Visit the laboratory to see firsthand the research being conducted to combat chronic and degenerative diseases
- Make a meaningful impact as NYSCF works to accelerate the transition of medical research into better treatments and cures
- Listing on Junior Leadership Council page on the NYSCF website

Junior Leadership Council Expectations:

- Serve as ambassadors for NYSCF's work, inviting your social and professional networks to events and utilizing social media to spread the word about NYSCF and the importance of stem cell research
- Contribute $25 per month to ensure NYSCF has the flexibility to pursue new research in this rapidly developing field
